

HARDING PLANS FOR PROHIBITION PARLEY DELAYED

Wants To Bring Governors Together To Promote Co-operation.

NEW YORK REPEAL WILL BE REBUKED

President Will Make Reply To Gov. Smith's State's Rights Plea.

Washington, June 9.—Plans for a big prohibition conference at the White House between President Harding and the governors of the 48 states has virtually been abandoned for the present, it was learned today.

There is still a possibility that a way may be found to bring a number of governors to Washington this month, but it is a remote one and the president has been reluctantly obliged to consider its postponement until next autumn.

The proximity of the date for the president's departure on his Alaskan trip, ten days hence, and the fact that in many states the legislatures are still in session, making it inconvenient, if not impossible for the executives to get away, have combined to prevent a conference of the kind the White House had planned.

It had been expected that Mr. Harding would take the opportunity afforded by this conference to "rebut" those states which refuse to enact enforcement laws of their own and also to make clear the government's policy of enforcement in such commonwealths.

As it is, White House spokesmen said today, it is probable the president will devote one speech on his forthcoming swing across the continent entirely to the prohibition question, and allow it to stand as his reply to Gov. Smith, of New York, who advanced a "state's rights" argument in support of his signing the Mullan-Gage repeal.

Would Rebuke New York

The president is disappointed over the seeming impossibility of having a round table discussion with the governors before his departure. He believes that such a conference would do more to promote co-operation between the federal government and the various states than any amount of legislation that might be written on its statute books.

Also, he does not like to let the New York repeal go "unrebuked" at this time, the effect of that drastic step at Albany already has begun to appear in other legislatures, notably in Wisconsin and in Illinois. There are three states which now have no state enforcement laws—New York, Maryland and Massachusetts. Should Wisconsin and Illinois be added to these, the problem of enforcement would become infinitely more difficult for the federal government, as they are all so situated as to become geographically "smuggling states."

The president will make it clear on his trip that the Republican policy is to be absolute enforcement of the dry law, irrespective of what action may be taken by the individual states and that legislative modification, not non-enforcement, is the only "honest remedy" which can be advocated by the wets.

SCOUTS OF SALEM SET NEW RECORDS IN COUNTY EVENTS

Three Salem Troops Lead In First Five Field Events Saturday.

Salem Boy Scouts led the entire field at noon Saturday in the annual Scout track and field meet being conducted at Rock Springs park, W. Va. near East Liverpool. Three new records were made by Salem scouts.

With five of 12 events concluded three Salem troops were leading Troop 7 was first with 15 points, followed by Troop 4 with 14 and Troop 1 with 13 points.

What was probably the greatest feature of the entire meet was the breaking of the knot-tying record by Raymond Cobourn of Troop 7 who tied the entire list of knots in 44 seconds. The previous record for this event was 1 min. 16 seconds, established by Cobourn last year.

Two other records were established by Salem scouts. Donald Smith of Troop 2 made a new mark for the fire lighting and water boiling contest when he had the water boiling in 10 min., 46 sec. Troop 1 broke the fireman's lift record when McArthur carried Grafton the distance in 11 seconds flat.

Charence Davidson of Troop 7, came within two seconds of breaking the record for the Scout pace when he paced the mile in 19 minutes. Walter Davis, Troop 7 won the 100-yard dash in 11 2/3 seconds.

The standing at noon follows: Troop 7, Salem, 15; Troop 4, Salem, 14; Troop 1, Salem, 13; Troop 3, Salem and Troop 4, East Liverpool, 10; Troop 1 and Troop 7, East Liverpool, 4; Troop 2, Salem, 3.

SIX UNDER ARREST FOR GIRL'S DEATH

Body Found Under Culvert After Warning Note Is Received.

Youngstown, June 9.—With the arrest of six persons here, police believe they have "hot clues" which may lead to a sudden solution of the fiendish murder of Helena Drachman, 21, pretty Y. W. C. A. girl, whose party clad and badly decomposed body was found under a small culvert on the Hubbard rd near here yesterday.

Detectives this morning took Christ Connell, Filipino chauffeur, into custody for investigation. Connell came to police headquarters today and told of receiving a warning note signed "J. B. J." on May 17. The handwriting in this message corresponded to that of the note addressed to "any captain or police" which led to the gruesome discovery.

Detectives believe Connell can shed valuable information on the crime. Beside Connell, police have arrested George K. Manier, 37, taxi driver said to be an intimate friend of the dead woman although he is a married man; his wife, Edith K. Manier, 30; Mrs. A. Chamberlode, 33; Earl C. Chamberlain, 28; his wife, Mrs. M. Chamberlain, the latter two of Jamestown, N. Y.

Elopements Bring Divorces, Gretna Green Is Scored

Judge Says Loose System In Other States Clutters Up Courts.

Lisbon, June 9.—Two divorce cases were passed on yesterday by Judge Moore and in each case decrees were granted. The first action was that of Emma Whitehouse of East Palestine against Fred Whitehouse, the grounds being wilful absence. The mother was given the custody of her seven-year-old son.

The second case was that of Edna Fox vs William Fox of East Liverpool the grounds for the action being cruelty.

Both of these couples were married after an elopement to New Cumberland, W. Va., where they were granted marriage licenses.

In passing on these actions Judge Moore stated from the bench that most of the divorce cases that came before him were the result of marriages of this sort.

"It is getting to be almost a common occurrence to have to deal with matrimonial mixups that have resulted from marriages at New Cumberland," said Judge Moore.

"It would seem wise to me that there should be a rule that where couples are married in another state under circumstances of a runaway match, they should be compelled to go to that state to secure their divorces."

"The laws of Ohio are invoked to iron out the wrinkles caused by the loose system of granting marriage permits in other states. The courts time here should not be taken up with cases of this sort where matrimonial ventures not sanctioned by our laws are to be adjusted."

The court advised both wives if they contemplated any further matrimonial ventures to do so only under due consideration of the subject and never again to elope to another state to have their marriage sanctioned.

Miss Hoffmaster Awarded Alumni Scholarship

To Miss Florence Hoffmaster goes the 1923 scholarship offered each year by the Salem High School Alumni association to one graduate of the school.

The award, announced Friday night at the alumni banquet, was made from eight or nine applicants, the scholarship being granted not only because of meritorious work in the high school course but because the recipient is worthy and unable to finance her own way through college.

Miss Hoffmaster, winner of the scholarship, was one of the honor students of the graduating class this year. Her work during the four years of high school was excellent, according to members of the faculty, and she is very popular among her classmates.

GIRL USES ARMY'S NAME TO SOLICIT

For the third time in recent weeks since the arrival in Salem of Envoys and Mrs. Ward of the Salvation Army a 14-year-old Salem girl has gone among the residents of the city representing herself as an army worker soliciting money by various schemes.

This time the girl has been selling seeds in the name of the Salvation Army. Mrs. Ward, wife of Envoys Ward, states that the child will be made to acknowledge her guilt this time and her parents, who previously have been ignorant of her pranks will be notified, as the Salvation Army is in no way associated with the sale of the garden seeds being dispensed by the child.

Mrs. Ward also states that no solicitations are made by the army workers unless the workers are attired in full army uniforms. In this way their benefactors may know with whom they are dealing.

ALUMNI SEEKING TO INCREASE THE SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Fund Totals $5500 But More Than One Award Each Year Is Aim.

$600 CONTRIBUTED BY CLASS OF 1923

Banquet And Reunion Last Night Declared Best For Several Years.

Ninety-one young men and women, members of the 1923 graduating class of Salem High school, were welcomed into membership in the school's alumni association at the 41st annual reunion and banquet Friday night in the Elks hall room. Classes as far back as 1877 were represented in the gathering of 250.

The hall was arranged artistically in green and gold, the 1923 colors, and peonies and flags graced the banquet tables. Vocal solos by Miss Eleanor Tolerton, 23, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Miller, '23, and by Miss Elizabeth Miller, '21, accompanied by Miss Helen Derfus, were greatly appreciated.

This banquet program presided over by T. A. Boyle of Cleveland, president of the association, developed into an explanation of the aims and purposes of the scholarship fund, its accomplishments and a plea for greater support to make the fund large enough to give more graduates the benefit of it.

Best Program In Years "I was a short, snappy program, the best in several years, opening with invocation by Rev. H. L. Miller and closing with the assembly singing 'America,' with Miss Doris Wisner at the piano. From 10 to 12 the large gathering enjoyed dancing."

Guestmaster Boyle welcomed the class of 1923 with a few words of advice concerning the development of personality, character, energy and knowledge of the vocation in which they might specialize. In responding for his class, Richard Roose referred to the outside activities that help in the training of high school students and in behalf of his class presented the association a check for $600 to be applied to the scholarship fund.

A review of the 20 years effort to build up a large scholarship fund was given by Mrs. W. H. Dunn, who announced that this fund now totals $5,500 and that the scholarship award amounts to $250. It is the scholarship fund that has kept alive the real interest in the alumni association. Mrs. Dunn asserted, as she recalled the increasing amounts donated by graduating classes the largest gift of $800 having been received from the class of 1922. The Rose Preston legacy of $1,000 also was added to this fund.

In the last 16 years eight boys and eight girls have been awarded the scholarship, and five of them are still working their way through college. A movement is now on foot to have classes which have never been solicited, contribute to the fund so that several scholarships may be awarded each year.

Awards Scholarship H. H. Sharp, chairman of the scholarship committee, then announced the awarding of this year's scholarship to Miss Florence Hoffmaster, an honor graduate, who responded by declaring that her appreciation could best be shown by her efforts in college and her loyalty to the alumni association.

"What the Alumni Means to the School" was the subject of an entertaining toast by J. S. Alan, superintendent of schools, who declared that the alumni could aid in three definite ways—by keeping a high standard of education for the city, by helping the board of education maintain a modern school system and by increasing the scholarship fund so that more might have advantage of it.

Fred Burdick, class of '14, told how he worked his way through college and offered many helpful suggestions to those who are compelled to support themselves wholly or partially while attending college.

Debs The Disturber

EUGENE V. DEBS again is actively proclaiming his devotion to the Soviet republic, which, so he claims, is developing a new and better form of government. He sees, also, a wave of Socialism sweeping over this country, and is doing his utmost to stimulate its potency. He impugns the integrity of the supreme court and in general condemns our social, industrial and political systems.

Debs is a disturber. His imprisonment brought to him nothing of repentance or clearness of vision. He is a fanatical dreamer, quite ready to suffer martyrdom in the "cause of the people." He has not learned that he is the prophet of outworn theories. He will never learn this truth. He is no friend to democracy as this people understand democracy. He sees in Russia, under the iron dictatorship of Lenin and Trotsky, with its denial of God and its repudiation of the home relation, a system better than that which has placed this nation in the vanguard of civilization!

Mr. Debs and those who feel and believe as he feels and believes could not go up and down the ways of his revered Russia declaiming against its government or anything done by its representatives. In such case Mr. Debs, or any other visionary humanitarian or utopian, promptly would be stood up against a wall or taken into a shambles and shot.

It is a pity that Debs and his kind, including men like Bishop Blake, cannot be compelled to go to Russia and stay there. There is where they belong. They should be given fullest personal opportunity to enjoy this "new and better government" which they so earnestly praise to their fellowmen in this country.

It is rather singular that these apostles of a new order do not voluntarily take themselves to a land where there is so much to admire in the way of social and political betterment. But they do not go. When they do go, any of them, they do not stay. But they should be compelled to go and stay. Russia is the land of their opportunity. Let them inhabit it.

Shriners At Washington
TWENTY thousand Shriners marched in picturesque parade before a half million enthused and applauding spectators at Washington this week. In that parade was represented the best there is in American manhood and citizenship. The syncopation of the bands, the fluttering of innumerable standards and national flags, the brilliance of multi-colored costumes, the cheering and loud acclaim of the gathered thousands combined to make the event one of the most notable public spectacles ever staged in America.

The significance of this remarkable event should not be lost upon those who read the news stories detailing its incidents. The president seized a splendid opportunity to point out to the world the value of the influence and ideals of Masonry particularly, and of all fraternal efforts, saying that if there could be fraternity among nations as it is taught in America among men, then, indeed, war could not exist in this world, the idea of human brotherhood would dominate the race.

As long as Masonry and other just and justified fraternal organizations continue as guiding influences in the national life the perpetuity of this free republic is assured. Washington has witnessed a glorious spectacle, an event which served notice upon the entire world that the flower of earth's most ancient order still represents and stands for all that is best in law, morals, business and government. One of the best defenses of America is represented in its so-called secret organizations, which teach and exalt clean and loyal fraternity.

20 YEARS AGO

(Issue of June 9, 1903)
Prof. B. F. Stanton of the Salem High school, has been elected superintendent of the public schools of Bowling Green. Prof. Stanton came to Salem three years ago from Harvard college, where he had been taking a post graduate course.

Henry Gibson, aged blacksmith located on McKinley ave, had a narrow escape from death under the hoofs of a horse, which he was shoeing yesterday afternoon.

William Hutcheson, McKinley ave, had a slight fall down the steps Sunday evening at the Christian church. Mrs. Ada E. Prudy, of Denver, Colo., a granddaughter of W. D. Lepper, founder of the Ohio Patriot has sent for exhibition among the centennial exhibits at Lisbon a copy of that paper of the date of Sept. 20, 1817.

John Costella and W. H. Heeburn, Lisbon, expect to leave June 20 for the Klondyke region in the interest of the gold company organized here this spring.

The paving of the square at Lisbon has been completed. J. H. French, Lisbon, had the contract.

Miss Sarah McCormack and Harry H. Wilkinson, Salem young people, were married at noon today by Rev. W. L. Swan.

Miss Adda Ruth, member of this year's graduating class, will entertain the class at a farewell dinner party Thursday evening at her home, Lincoln ave.

Mrs. Josephine Horne, wife of William Horne, Franklin ave., is dead after a long illness. Besides her husband, one daughter, Elizabeth, survives.

Woman Expected Real Service.

"White Plains! Dobb's Ferry! Tarrytown!" thundered the announcer. A middle-aged woman dragged her young son before the herald. The youngster's eyes were dimmed by tears. "Does your train go to Pittsburgh?" she asked.

"No, ma'am; this is a Tarrytown local," was the ready response. She walked away and sat down for a moment and then returned. The youngster was crying to beat the band. "Are you sure this train doesn't go to Pittsburgh?" she reiterated.

"Now, lady, I think you understand English. I told you before that it doesn't. Now, what's the idea of bothering me for nothing?"

"Well, you needn't get excited," she offered. "If you had listened you would have heard my little boy crying because he wants to go to Pittsburgh. A lot he knows the difference. Now, would it have hurt you to say that the train did go there?"—New York Times.

Geese Sixty-Seven Years Old.

Wild geese are sometimes said to be centenarians, but there has been difficulty in proving the statement. Some evidence has been presented, however, by Henry Stark, for, says Outdoor Life:

In 1855 an uncle of Henry Stark captured two Canada geese in a net spread along the beach of the Chickanooga islands in Chesapeake bay. Since that time this pair of geese, have been paddling around farms owned by members of the Stark family.

A few years ago the uncle died at the ripe age of eighty-one, but the two Canada geese are still thriving and alert and seemingly in the prime of their youth. No one knows how old these geese were when captured, but Mr. Stark says he has evidence that they are sixty-seven years old now and he hopes they will prove the statement that wild geese live to be one hundred.

GREATEST POWER IN WORLD

Organized Opinion is the Lever Which Makes Possible All Movements for World's Uplifting.

Columbus discovered America, but Amerigo Vesputius described it and as a result the continent bears the name of the historian rather than that of the discoverer. M. S. Pittman of Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti, Mich., told the National Education association.

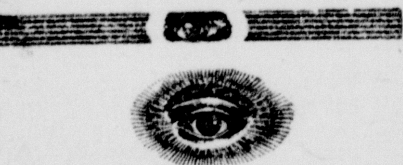

"Comenius, that great educator of the Seventeenth century, put his thoughts into written form, but he lacked a suitable press agent, and in consequence education lost two centuries of possible progress," said Doctor Pittman. "Publicity is the trail-blazer which discovers and marks the paths along which civilization may march with safety. It is the agency by which an established civilization makes known its virtues and its blessings."

"The thesis, The pen is mightier than the sword, was once debatable, but not since the art of publicity has been so highly developed. Organized opinion is the world's greatest power, and publicity is the creator of public opinion. Educational publicity, then, is the trail-blazer, the light-giver, the radio, the opinion maker, the war machine, of educational progress.—Exchange.

HAIL-SHOOTING NOT FEASIBLE

Scheme That Was Widely Heralded
Some Few Years Ago Has Gone
Into the Discard.

Statements appear at intervals in the press heralding new ways of making rain, preventing rain or fog, or forestalling the disastrous effects of storms. These ideas are not new. Ten years or more ago certain countries in Europe were thrown into excitement, reflected in their newspapers, over the possibility of a scheme called hail-shooting. It was believed that by shooting bombs into the air before an oncoming storm it could be dissipated, thus averting consequent destruction to crops from rain or hail. Contrary to the opinions of the best meteorologists a good deal of money was spent in experimenting with hail-shooting, but little is ever heard of it now.

Persons who want anything know that The News is the Want Medium in this vicinity. So read it.

MAYOR IS ORDERED TO "PURIFY" NILES

Columbus, June 8.—Mayor Charles Crow of Niles is the latest mayor to be summoned before Gov. A. V. Donahy for alleged laxity in enforcing prohibition laws and the like. He has been cited chief to appear personally before the state's chief executive June 14, and explain why charges have been filed against him and to say whether he will make honest effort to "purify" his city.

Affidavits charging failure to enforce laws have been filed both with the governor and with the state prohibition commissioner. They were not made public.

Go. Donahy several weeks ago had before him the mayors of New Philadelphia, and Lorain against whom charges similar to those against Mayor Crow had been made.

This chief executive warned the officials that conditions in their cities must be bettered or that further steps would be taken. Both were given detailed instructions as to their method of procedure in "cleaning up" their cities.

PA ASKITT "HELPS" TOMMY

Doubtful, However, if He Added Much to the Youngster's Store of Useful Knowledge.

"Pa, there's an airplane," he announced.

"Yes, Thomas," said Pa Askitt, absently. "Don't touch it."

When he picked up the novel from beneath the geography book where he had hidden it, he chanced to look up.

"What are you reading, Thomas?" she asked quickly.

"My geog—I mean er—this." There was nothing to do but show it.

"Give it to me," said ma, sternly. Pa looked up.

"So, that's what you read instead of doing your lessons, heh?" he said frowningly. "Boy, get on your lesson this instant, or I'll give you a taste of the strap!"

"You can help him, William," suggested ma.

"I can't—I got—"

"O, yes, you can, too. Just help him with his lessons. Somebody must do it, and I'm too busy," said ma, with finality.

"O, darn it, come along then and be mighty quick about it!" said pa crossly. "Now, what the deuce do you spell bank with a big B for?"

"Well, don't you always say that a bank is no good unless it has a large capital?" reminded Tommy.

"I said nothing but ma snickered.

"Say, pa, what are three articles containing starch?"

"Why, er, a collar and two cuffs," answered pa.

Tommy looked doubtful about writing it down and took the safest course. He didn't.

"Why have words roots, pa?"

"Words have roots because how else could they grow?" and pa smiled the smile of the wiselheimer.—Detroit Free Press.

ABODE OF "THUNDER BIRD"

Indian Legend Concerning Tract in the "Bad Lands" Never Visited by White Man.

Half a dozen miles southwest of scenic, S. D., in the very heart of the Bad lands, is an area of approximately four square miles. No white man's foot has ever rested there so far as can be learned, the Detroit News says. The Indians call the plot "sichi makeche," meaning "bad place." Deep canyons and gorges lead up to spine-like pinnacles, and every attempt to follow their tortuous paths thus far has ended in failure.

Chief Fleming Arrow, a veteran of the frontier days, gives what probably is the Sioux belief. Many years ago, the chief said, before the pale face came, here was the place where dwelt the "Thunder Bird" high in the pinnacles of stone. This wall of rock kept out unwelcome visitors, the chief contended, and added that the protected area is rich in food, sunlight and warmth, and has pure, cold streams of running water.

Discovery has been made of a process by which the muscular tissues of horses and cattle can be converted into silk.

ORIGINATOR OF "UNCLE SAM"

Government Worker Said to Have Coined the Phrase Following the War of 1812.

This is one story of how the expression, "Uncle Sam," popular name for the United States government, is said to have originated: Immediately after the declaration of war against England in 1812, Elbert Anderson of New York, then a contractor, visited Troy, N. Y., where there was concentrated and where he purchased a large quantity of provisions, beef, pork and so forth. Samuel Wilson, an inspector of these articles at that place, was generally known as "Uncle Sam." He superintended, in person, a large number of workmen, who on this occasion, were employed in overhauling the provisions purchased by the contractor for the army. The casks were marked "E. A.—U. S." This work fell to the lot of a facetious fellow in the employ of the inspector, who, on being asked by some of his fellow workmen the meaning of the mark (for the letters U. S., for the United States, were then entirely new to them), said he did not know unless it meant "Elbert Anderson" and "Uncle Sam"—alluding exclusively, then, to the said "Uncle Sam" Wilson. The joke took among the workmen and passed currently; and "Uncle Sam" himself, being present, was occasionally rallied by them on the increasing extent of his possessions.

CLAIMS EARTH IS TOPSHAPED

French Scientist Puts Forth Theory That Will Be Found More or Less Interesting.

A French scientist finds in the great depths of the Arctic ocean an argument tending to show that the earth is slightly topshaped, the protuberance corresponding to the point of the top being at the South pole. This, he thinks, would explain the different results arrived at by the various measurements of astronomers and geodesists. The differences are very small in comparison with the entire bulk of the globe, yet they are readily appreciable, and one of the explanations that has been suggested for them is that the earth is tetrahedral in form. But the Frenchman thinks the top-shape theory is preferable. The fact that to an eye looking at the earth from a point in space it would not sensibly differ in appearance from a true sphere shows how refined are the methods of science which enable men living on the surface of the globe to detect variations in its general contour.—New York Herald.

Theory of Relativity.

Einstein is said to have made the statement that only 12 men could understand his theory. This statement referred to it in its mathematical entirety, and not to a common sense understanding. In a general way, everyone understands Newton's law of gravitation, although to grasp it fully one must know the calculus. In a similar way the layman can understand the relativity theory, stated by a famous mathematician, to wit: "One cannot determine the speed of any object moving at a uniform rate of speed in a straight line, by any experiment in motion or light, and the moving object changes its length in relation to speed and direction of its motion."

This theory had its forerunners in many countries, but is an outgrowth, more specifically, of the attempt to find the velocity of the earth's motion by a very delicate experiment with light. The theory also makes instantaneous a relative matter.

Saturday "Dress-Up" Day.

Saturdays once were almost universally pay days, but now, with many firms paying their help on other days, Saturdays have lost claim to that distinction. But another one still prevails, the New York Sun states. To the stenographer or girl clerk Saturdays are dress-up days. Even the most prim and most severely plain dresser blossoms forth on Saturday.

The system started through engagements for the afternoon Sadie, or Mamie, or Rose, wished to appear at her best when she met Tom, Dick or Harry, or whoever was going to take her to a movie or Coney Island.

When one of them quarreled with her particular beau and was without a companion for the afternoon could she admit it to the other girls? Certainly not. And so, whether an engagement awaits or not, the little stenographer dresses up every Saturday.

Looking Both Ways. Billy Kane, an Irish huckman of Maccon, Mo., was on the stand in a personal injury case. A man was suing the railroad, claiming he was hit through the negligence of the engine man. It was in evidence that three boys were standing on the edge of the platform as the train came in. The lawyer for the railroad was cross-examining Mr. Kane pretty severely, and the sharper he became the more exasperated seemed the witness' answers. Finally he demanded the witness tell him the exact position of those boys.

"Well, sir," replied Mr. Kane smoothly, "their backs was a-facing the east."

Cause for Worry.

A Sunday school teacher was telling the children of her class about the miracle of Christ changing the water into wine at the marriage feast of Cana. One little fellow jumped to the floor, saying: "Oh, that's nothing; my dad made some wine and then changed it into vinegar." Now dad's worried for fear the boy will get him in bad.

Shoots Elephant, But Has Fear Of Mice.

Mrs. Delia J. Akeley.

Mrs. Delia J. Akeley, noted huntress, who will leave America in a few weeks to spend a year in the heart of Africa, hunting big game for the Brooklyn museum, has confessed that she is afraid of a mouse. She has admitted also she cries every time she shoots an elephant and that sometimes she has an irresistible craving for ice cream in the heart of the jungle. The charge of a mad bull elephant, she said, furnishes the thrill of a lifetime.

Artistic Ancient Earrings.

Within the last decade has occurred the return of the earring, so long laid aside. Few seen today, however, surpass in taste and delicate finish the earrings of Biote, the daughter of Aristotle, which were found in Chalced where the young woman was buried.

These ornaments represented doves swinging in golden hoops. The miniature birds were marvelously wrought, the feathers of granulated gold, the wings and breasts enriched with bands of color supplied by inserted gems. Precious stones gleamed like tiny sparks for the eyes. Daintiest of all the tall feathers were so finely made and curiously adjusted as to move at the slightest motion of the pendant loop, so that whenever the proud wearer should toss or shake her head two attendant doves would seem to balance themselves upon their perches as live birds do in swinging on a bough.

Ancient.

Temple of the Moon, believed to be the oldest building on earth, is uncovered by scientific diggers at Ur on the lower Euphrates river. It was erected about 7,000 years ago, and was used continuously as a church for 4,000 years.

King Tut seems very ancient to us, yet here's a building that was about 40 centuries old when he was born. Discovery of the Temple of the Moon is important. It helps confirm the scientific belief that the first civilization was along the Euphrates. Somewhere in that vicinity probably was the cradle of the human race—though Chinese claim that their authentic history dates back at least 22,000 years.

Couldn't See the Joke.

I was nine and he was ten. I was deeply in love with him. When my birthday arrived, a heavy package also arrived, from him. I took off the first wrapping and there was another following and several more. Then came a shoe box. I opened it, and my heart was beating with excitement. But, lo, and behold! there lay a brick, with "greetings" printed on it. This was the beginning and also the end of my first love affair.—Exchange.

Machine Weighs, Counts Hay Bales.

After a day's work in baling hay, the owner of a hay press need only look at the recorder of a new automatic weighing and counting machine which Popular Mechanics Magazine describes and illustrates, to know how many bales his machine has turned out and their weight. As the bales come out of the press, they fall upon the device, weigh and count themselves.

Origin of Welsh Language.

While some Welshmen claim that the Welsh language was that spoken by Adam and Eve, others more modestly insist that it was one of the original languages spoken at the Tower of Babel. Some cynics admit this, and tell the story of its origin thus:

One of the masons at the top of the tower had plenty of mortar but no bricks. The tower had reached such a height that he could not make the man below hear him when he called for more bricks. At last the latter, with wide-open mouth, called up: "What?" Then the mason, exasperated, threw down a trowel of mortar which, lodging in the throat of the man below, resulted in his speaking Welsh for the first time, and accounts for the guttural character of the language.

HAD HARD WORK TO STOP IT

North Carolina Mountaineer's Struggle With Ramrod Must Have Been Something Fierce.

Representative Zebulon Weaver, Democrat, of North Carolina, relates this story in the New York Herald: "My district has mountain counties and mountain men and women. The smartest people I know live in the caves of the North Carolina mountains about Asheville. They laugh in their sleeves at folks who describe them as 'greenhorns.'"

"We had a one-armed fisherman in a valley in the Blue Ridge. He was not only good with a hook and line but could outswear anybody in his community. A Presbyterian preacher found him and became a fishing companion. Soon he tamed him and got him to give up cursing. But he was up to other tricks. One fall when the preacher joined him for a fishing frolic the mountaineer told him he came near losing his other hand."

"How was that?" asked the preacher.

"Why, I was trying to get a car-ridge out of my old gun and it went off."

"The ramrod became fastened in the barrel, and I had hold of it trying to shake it loose when the load was discharged. Of course I had a good grip on the rod, but it lifted me on my tiptoes three times before I could stop it."

FEW REALLY LOVE PESSIMIST

Truth in Statement That Man With Morning Smile Is Worth His Entire Tribe.

There were optimists in King Tut-Ankh-Amen's time who met the far-off mornings with a smile.

And from all accounts of a statue they found in the king's tomb, the artist caught the inspiration of the smile and preserved it for the long after-centuries.

In one sense, it was the same world then that it is today. They had their joys and sorrows, and smiles and tears contended for the mastery.

There were pessimists then, as now, who saw no good and gracious things in life; who mocked the smiling ones and went frowning to their tombs; who, not having heard of the Cone method, probably answered a cheery morning salutation with "Day by day, in every way, we're getting worse and worse," and who, when golden Opportunity knocked at their sad doors, opened them not, for fear Trouble might walk in and take the best chair at their gloomy firesides.

They never tried to smile away their troubles!

Varying types of them are with us today, but one optimist, with a morning smile, is worth them all!—Atlanta Constitution.

Treasure Sunk in Ocean.

Sunken treasure worth millions lies at the bottom of the Navarino bay, on the west coast of Greece. This glittering prospect, long the object of many fortune seekers, has finally found its way into British courts. Many companies have been formed to recover the gold from the land-locked bay of Navarino. None has succeeded. One concern, with $250,000 capital, was formed in 1913, but the war stopped it. The concession expired in 1920, then was taken over by two London engineers, who now come forward in a suit under an agreement to find money for digging the treasure. The agreement fell through, and one of the litigants has to be content with treasure to the extent of $250 awarded by the court. The treasure has been resisting all comers for nearly one hundred years. It went down in the ships of the Turkish Egyptian fleet, sunk by allied fleets in 1827. Sixty-two ships in all were sunk in this battle. Gold and jewels to the value of 120,000,000 gold francs sunk, while five other ships went down with $5,000,000 of plate and specie.

America's Shortage in Oil Supplies.

Although the United States produces about 70 per cent of the world's oil, it already consumes 25 per cent more than it produces. Moreover, American oil fields are becoming exhausted. Our reserves are estimated to be only 9,150,000,000 barrels, which, at our present rate of consumption, will be exhausted in 20 years. We are using up our reserves 16 times as rapidly as foreign countries. In contrast with our own situation, the world's oil reserves are calculated to last 250 years. Obviously, the attempt on the part of other nations to gain control of these resources threatens our interests.—Prof. R. L. Buell, in Current History Magazine.

How About This?

Peter Brown, the famous New York raconteur, was talking about the newspaper discussion. "Why does a girl close her eyes when a man kisses her?"

"This discussion," said Mr. Brown, "brought out some ingenious solutions, but the real solution was given by no one. It is this:

"A girl closes her eyes when a man kisses her because she has just told him he's the first and in consequence she's ashamed to look him in the face."

Odd Experience.

I was getting a rather late start for work one morning, and as I heard my train coming made a grab for my book and ran for the train. After seating myself comfortably I opened my book to read, but imagine my surprise on finding I had taken my mother's Swedish Bible instead of my interesting novel.—Chicago Journal.

AMERICA CERTAIN TO ENTER WORLD COURT SAYS ALLEN

Former Governor Returns From Europe Saying League Is Dead.

New York, June 9.—"America can not stand aloof from world affairs," Henry J. Allen, former governor of Kansas, and bitter opponent of internationalism, said today, following his return from a tour of Europe, the Near East and Russia.

"But America will never enter the league of nations," Allen predicted, adding "the league, built of flaming oratory camouflaging it as a preventive of war, is not functioning today. We misinterpreted the mandate of the people in the seven million majority given the Republican party," Allen said, as he sailed up New York bay, aboard the Cunarder Aquitania. "President Harding realized this and suggested our entrance into the world court—the court of justice."

Allen gave as his opinion that America was certain to enter the world court.

"But the 1924 campaign is not going to be based on internationalism," he said. "Neither will the liquor question play any part in the election of a Democrat or Republican."

Domestic Affairs To Front "The thirsty are of both parties, and American interest today centers in her domestic affairs."

Allen disclaimed any ambition to either the presidential nomination or to be selected as the nominee's running mate.

"President Harding will be re-nominated without a doubt," Allen said.

While the former Kansas executive went abroad for the purpose of an investigation for the Near East relief he made an exhaustive study of conditions in Europe and Russia, as well.

"As Russia turns from Socialism, her condition improves," Allen said. "Let me tell the American people the Red army of Russia is a thing which cannot be sneered at. It is a perfectly equipped force, capable of tremendous power."

"France will never accept the present German proposals," Allen said, discussing the Ruhr situation. "France demands a sincere effort by Germany."

French troops will remain in the Ruhr until such time as that effort is made."

REFERENDUM IDEA BELIEVED DEAD

Real Estate Men Consider Taft Taxation Act.

DECISION EXPECTED LATER ON

Deposed Chief Matron of Girls' Industrial School Denies Charges Made by Welfare Director and Says She Will Appeal to State Civil Service Commission — Foreign Languages in Public Schools of Ohio.

Columbus, June 9.—The proposal for a referendum on the Taft taxation bill is believed to have lost ground among the members of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards, who met here to consider the situation. After hours of discussion the realtors departed with the announcement that they had not been able to come to a decision. Whether an attempt is to be made to secure a referendum will be determined within a week by a special committee, not yet selected. This was about the only action taken.

Cincinnati's representatives came to the meeting with a proposal that, instead of attempting a referendum, the real estate men should lay the foundation for a constitutional amendment to prohibit any further raise in tax rates in Ohio. The idea behind this is classification of property for taxation, it is said. In offering this alternative the Cincinnatians declared that they would give their thorough and active support during a campaign for such an amendment and that educators, good roads advocates and others had assured them of their support.

President John E. McCrehen of the association has not indicated what may happen, in his opinion. Experienced observers of taxation affairs in Ohio are inclined to believe, however, that the proposed referendum is dead, and that the chief outcome will be the becoming effective of the Taft and Albaugh laws. The latter provides for appointive tax assessors.

In a letter to the association, Governor Donahey urged the initiation of a referendum on the Taft taxation act and promised his co-operation. He asserts his belief that the immediate effect of the Taft bill would be to increase Ohio taxation about $15,000,000, mostly on real estate. The governor added:

"All levies for bonds and interests thereon, issued after the taking effect of this act, will be outside all limitations. This provision is absolutely reprehensible and far more vicious than any straight-out, definite rate increase would be. The trouble with the Taft bill is that it automatically gives the tax spenders in cities and villages the right to boost rates without the protective security of any expression from the taxpayers."

The Taft act, sponsored by Representative Taft of Cincinnati, was passed over Donahey's veto.

Welfare Director Harper announced the removal of Mrs. Mae E. Stannard, chief matron in charge of the Girls' Industrial school near Delaware. Harper also announced that Miss Mattie Pangborn, a nurse at the school, is to be placed in charge for the present.

In a letter to Mrs. Stannard informing her of her dismissal, the welfare director gave as the reason that she has "been guilty of incompetency, inefficiency, extravagance and cruel and abusive treatment of girls" in the institution.

The following particulars were cited in the Harper letter:

"Padding or causing to be padded vouchers of parole officers in August, September and October, 1922, and certifying these vouchers, knowing them to be fraudulent, and receiving payment on them in violation of the law."

"Endangering the lives of girl inmates by confining them to padlocked sleeping rooms."

"Gagging girls, binding their hands behind their backs, tying their feet together, all at the same time, thereby causing them to be utterly helpless."

"Using language unbecoming an officer, calling girls vile and vicious names such as 'thief,' 'liar' and 'fool,' in the presence of institution officers and other girls."

"Placing girls in a dungeon in the basement of the amusement hall in a damp, dark room; keeping them for days and nights in this dungeon without a bed to sleep in, and feeding them on bread and water."

"Compromising a case involving a ward of the state, accepting $500 without authority of law."

"Transferring girls to the women's reformatory and other institutions in violation of law."

"Exceeding appropriations and holding unpaid invoices from October, 1922, until April, 1923, thereby losing discounts thereon."

"Erecting unnecessary buildings without authority of law and misrepresenting to the public that these were built without cost to the state."

"Increasing the cost of operating the institution 25 per cent over the cost for a similar period last year, as shown by the payroll."

Mrs. Stannard the deposed matron

Des Moines, Ia.—Only one girl from 300 who answered questionnaires in the High school here said she hoped to marry and have a home. All the declared that the charges against her are to be answered and an appeal from the order of removal will be filed in the allotted time with the state civil service commission. She denied every charge made by Director Harper, and declared the entire proceedings was a political matter, which she intended to fight for her own reputation.

"Mr. Harper has visited the school only once since I have been in charge; has never written a word of complaint about my administration, and has even been violating the law himself in not coming to the institution to personally hear parole cases as provided for by law," Mrs. Stannard said. "The law provides that he shall visit both the boys' and girls' schools at least once every two months for the hearing of parole cases."

Miss Pangborn, who has taken charge of the institution, suspended all work where the young girls were called upon to do manual labor. Resignations of several of the officials close to Mrs. Stannard are expected to be announced shortly.

Prohibition of teaching of foreign languages in Ohio schools below the eighth grade is an unlawful encroachment upon the rights conferred by the fourteenth amendment, according to a recent ruling by the United States supreme court, the said amendment guaranteeing that "no state shall deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law."

The decision holds the Ake law to be unconstitutional and upsets the entire fabric of war period anti-German language propaganda, which was marked at the time. Some who have studied the situation aver that before the German language can be taught in Ohio public, parochial and private schools, under the decision, affirmative legislation must be enacted by the general assembly, but this is denied by others.

According to Justice McReynolds, who wrote the majority opinion, the fourteenth amendment "denotes not merely freedom from bodily restraint, but also the right of the individual to contract, to engage in any of the common occupations of life, to acquire useful knowledge, to marry, to establish a home and bring up children, to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience and generally to enjoy those privileges long recognized under common law as essential to the orderly pursuits of happiness by free men."

The question was submitted to the United States supreme court on appeal from the Ohio supreme court, which had upheld the statute forbidding the teaching of German in the elementary schools in the case of a German Lutheran school at Garfield Heights, Cuyahoga county, H. H. Bohning, a trustee, and Rev. Emil Pohl, clergyman, were arrested for permitting to be taught and for teaching, respectively, German in a Lutheran parochial school. Each was fined $25 and costs in municipal court, the suit being a friendly one and by way of testing the statute. Thence upward through the courts the statute stood the attacks of those who were testing it, until it reached the United States supreme court, where it met defeat.

Because Governor Donahey and Attorney General Crabbe permitted a Portsmouth chiropractor, who is serving time in the Scioto county jail, to continue to treat a child that had been under his care before his incarceration, the two state officials were asked at a meeting of the Columbus Academy of Medicine to explain their act. The chiropractor is serving time for violation of the state medical laws. The purpose of the communication from the academy is to ascertain the official attitude of the case before taking any definite action, it was explained. The academy showed no tendency to condemn the officials, it is said. In discussing the case, Dr. Herbert M. Platner said the governor had attempted to get in touch with the medical board before taking definite action on the child's case. "The governor told me he had no intention of pardoning the man. Instead he admitted that the girl's story had played upon his heart strings," Dr. Platner stated.

A restraining order against Harry L. Conn, state insurance superintendent, has been denied to Francis M. Thompson of Columbus by Judge Duncan of the Franklin county courts. Thompson wished to have Conn restrained from revoking his license as an insurance solicitor on June 7, the date set for hearing on whether Thompson is a suitable person to be licensed. Thompson claimed he had been licensed for some time past. Judge Duncan ruled that the state law gives the superintendent of insurance discretionary power to hear and determine the suitability of applicants for licenses as insurance solicitors.

Dangers of carbon dioxide and how to combat the dangerous effects of the gas were explained at the Ohio re chiefs' convention here by Dr. Mary M. Mayhurst of the state department of health. ## MRS. COFFMAN ILL SEVEN YEARS

Saved from an Operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sidell, Ill. — "I was a nervous wreck. I was suffering from a pain in my left side, which was almost unbearable, and I could not even let the bed clothing rest on my body at night. I had been sick for seven years, but not so bad until the last eighteen months, and had become so run-down that I cared for nobody, and would rather have died than live. I couldn't do my work without help, and the doctors told me that an operation was all there was left. I would not consent to that, so my husband brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged me to take it. I have taken fourteen bottles of it and I feel ten years younger. Life is full of hope. I do all my housework and had a large garden this year. I never will be without the Vegetable Compound in the house, and when my two little girls reach womanhood I intend to teach them to take it. I am never too busy to tell some suffering sister of my help, and you can use my name and letter to spread the good news of Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines."

Tools That Can Be Made by the Amateur

Neatness in the construction of radio equipment depends greatly upon the facilities for handling the metal parts, panels and wiring, and correctly shaping each instrument or wire. By making and using the tools shown in the accompanying sketches the amateur will be greatly aided in his work.

Eight types of tools are shown, the material for which can be readily obtained or found among the contents of the tool box. Each tool will prove indispensable after its use has been learned and mastered.

No. 1. The small tweezer tongs, as shown, are made up of saw blades and a screw terminal. Obtain two lengths of back saw blades, bend them to shape, drill for the screw terminal and rivets, then assemble. Small machine screws and nuts can be used instead of rivets if desired. The tongs will prove very useful when soldering or assembling light apparatus. A wing nut can be used for faster and easier action.

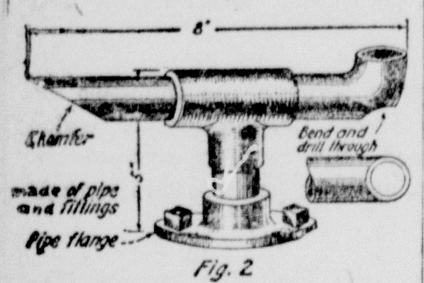

Fig. 1 Shows a Pair of Tweezers Made From Saw Blades. Fig. 2 a Small Anvil Useful for Light Work.

No. 2 is a small stake anvil of light construction. All parts are made from pipe or pipe fittings. As is clearly indicated, the base is made from a pipe flange, into which is screwed a small pipe upright, to the top of which is fitted a T joint.

The cross pipes are cut and drilled, screwed into the T joint and the instrument is finished. A height of 5 inches and a length of 8 inches is to be preferred. In building up rheostats, coils, placing rivets and soldering, this tool finds a useful place.

No. 3. The cutter and trimmer is made from two steel blades and a handle, suitably fastened to a wooden base. A graduated scale should be marked upon the base, one blade

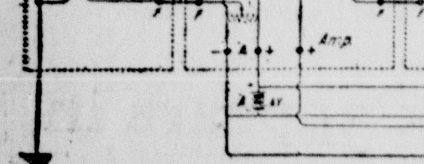

Fig. 5. By making the tuner and detector in separate cabinets, it is possible to an either radio or audio amplification at will. The cut shows how the addition of the radio and audio amplifier may be obtained. One may arrange the binding posts on a rear sub-panel to eliminate unsightly wiring. If desired, a height of 9 inches for each panel will be found suitable.

shearing iron core stock and other light material.

No. 4. This is a combination saw and file holder. A piece of 1/2-inch steel pipe is cut and bent to the proper size and slotted for the blade ends as shown. This holder will enable a firm hold to be had on saw blades of any type of file, either flat or circular.

No. 5. A very simple and easily constructed coil winder can be made as follows: Two end supports should be made first. They consist of a T joint, a short length of pipe and a pipe flange. The supports are separated 15 inches and securely fastened to the bench, making sure that the openings are in line. One support is equipped with an axle, on one end of which is fastened a pulley. The chuck is fastened to the other end with a set-screw. The other support is equipped with a center. The axle can be turned with an electric motor, or the fan can employ the ever-present sewing machine for power. This instrument will aid greatly in winding all forms of coils and can also be used for drilling if desired.

No. 6. The disc cutter shown enables one to cut dials, condenser end plates, etc., from sheets. Bar stock is used throughout, the arrangement being very simple. This tool will fit the bit brace, and, if the size shown is adhered to, will give satisfactory service.

No. 7. This alcohol torch is a necessity in every station and its construction is so simple that every amateur should make one and derive the benefits therefrom. An ink or other bottle which will not readily upset is employed. Drill the cork for a short length of insulating tube which should then be inserted as shown. The wick can be purchased at any drugstore. Wood or real alcohol, if you can get it, can be used. For every purpose where heat is desired this will prove of value.

No. 8. The hand knurl and tube cutting tool shown consists of a handle with an adjustable elbow. When using the knurling disc it is possible to tighten up the numerous thumb screws and adjusting pieces. The cutting disc will allow easy grooving or cutting off of metal tubing or solid insulating rod. This device will be found very handy in a large assembling room, and the amateur will never regret the time spent in making this or any of the other tools described.

Trees of the Forests Absorb Radio Energy

Signals in transit across forests have lost much of their power especially in the spring and early summer when the sap and foliage make the trees better conductors of electricity. Radio waves passing over and through the trees give up energy just as in striking a steel building. If a short length of wire serving as an antenna can absorb sufficient energy from a passing wave to create a sound which can be heard several hundred feet away from the phones, one can realize how much energy may be intercepted by a large steel building with its electric wiring and pipes connected to the ground. Such absorption is particularly noticeable when short wave lengths are used.

When a wave length is eight to fourteen miles long "dead spots" seem to cause little interference. Such a wave is comparatively long compared to steel structures, and for this reason it is thought they do not obstruct the wave's path to such a great extent.

THE SERVICE OF A FAILURE

BY J. H. PUELICHER

President American Bankers Association

J. H. Puelicher

When Gov. Walton of Oklahoma signed recently the repeal of the bank deposit guaranty law in that state, he performed an economic service to the whole country. I might even say that Oklahoma in passing that law, enduring its evil consequences for fifteen years and then frankly casting it aside as a failure, has performed an economic service to the nation. There could be no more convincing argument against the passage of similar laws in other states than Oklahoma's disastrous experiment.

The Oklahoma guaranty law was the first of its kind. It was enacted in response to the panic of 1907. But experience has only proved again that there is no substitute for sound banking. Relying on the fancied security of the guaranty law, people entrusted their banking to many who were unfit for the trust. Bank failures have been so many that the fund, supposed to guarantee deposits, created by assessments on banks, was long ago depleted.

It is estimated that with total liabilities created under the law in the form of warrants and sums owing to depositors amounting to $12,000,000, there are in the hands of the Banking Board uncertain assets of nominally $15,000,000, ranging in value from zero to only thirty or forty cents on the dollar, resulting in a deficit of many millions dollars. Sound, well-managed banks have been heavily taxed by assessments to the fund, and the maximum amount that could be assessed on solvent banks is insufficient to cover the deficit.

It has been well said that guaranty laws make for looseness in banking methods, and saddle on the competent and honest the sins of the incompetent and dishonest.

Let us have only laws that raise the standard of banking. Let us have no laws that debate it.

NEED FOR UNIFORMITY IN BUSINESS LAWS

How Collection of Just Debts May Be Prevented by Differing State Statutes.

An effort to bring about better coordination and greater uniformity among state laws dealing with business and banking is being made by the American Bankers Association.

It is pointed out that, although the country is a unit commercially, and citizens of any one state may do business that reaches all over the country, most laws governing business transactions are made by the different states, with application limited to their own local jurisdictions and often in conflict with laws in other states. It is held that state laws should be uniform so that the same transaction will not be subject to different sets of rules according as state laws differ.

To illustrate the disadvantages of conflicting laws, the following illustration is given: Mr. Jones lives in New York where the statute of limitations outlaws a note in six years. He falls into the error of assuming that the same rule prevails everywhere. He visits Maryland and loans $1,000 to his friend, Mr. Smith, taking a promissory note. As the note carries interest Mr. Jones is in no hurry for his money and he believes Smith to be financially responsible. Finally at the end of four years Jones concludes he has loaned Smith the money long enough and seeks to collect the note from him. But Smith can deny liability and point to the statute of Maryland which Jones is surprised to learn outlaws a note after three years.

Changes Recommended

The particular subjects of legislation recommended by the association for enactment by State legislatures during 1923 include uniform acts on negotiable instruments, bills of lading, warehouse receipts, stock transfer, and fiduciaries.

Under the head of laws for better protection of banks in particular transactions are proposed measures dealing with limiting liability on certified check; instruments based on gambling or usurious consideration; time limit on stop payment; payment of stale check; adverse claim to bank deposit; payment of forged or raised check; deposits in two names; deposits in trust; competency of bank and corporation notaries; non-payment of check through error; Saturday afternoon bank transactions; and forwarding check direct to payor.

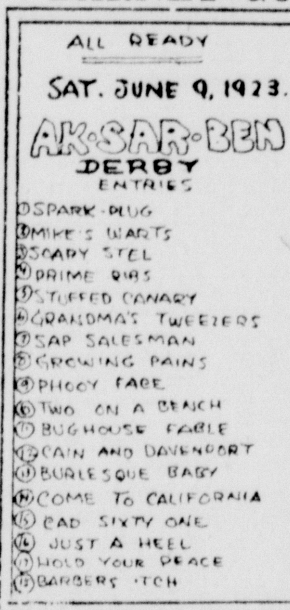

Under the Federal Reserve and foreign banking are recommended laws on membership of state institutions in Federal Reserve System, and foreign banking. Penal laws proposed deal with false statements for credit; slander and libel of bank; checks or drafts without funds; and burglary with explosives.

Isaacs, Inventor of the Motion Picture Camera, Retires

New York, June 9.—The "granddaddy of the movies" today put on his slippers and hunted out the easy chair in his Long Island home—John D. Isaacs, inventor, has retired.

Isaacs, 45 years ago, designed the counterpart of what today is the motion picture camera.

His retirement finds him in the position of never having made a dollar from the brain child which has grown to America's fourth industry, bringing its fame to thousands, and its millions to others.

"In the days when New York was young—way back in '78—Senator Stanford and James W. Keene entered into a $25,000 wager as to whether a trotting horse, at one period of its stride, had all four feet off the ground," Isaacs, at his country home in Forest Hills, said today.

Broadwayites of another year recalled the preparations made to decide the historic bet. Cameras were set up in a row to snap the trotter as it passed. The scheme failed.

Then Senator Stanford, a friend of Isaacs, called in the inventor.

But it was not until 1888—ten years later—that a simple electro-magnetic release was perfected and the horse photographed with all four feet off the ground. Senator Stanford won his bet.

"The motion picture to me is the most enjoyable form of recreation," Isaacs said today.

Of its scandals; its problems; its future development, Isaacs professes ignorance.

"I love the motion picture for its entertainment, nothing more," the grandfather of the industry said.

Fables of a Wise Little Bride

She had such a pretty cretonne laundry bag—shower gift from one of the girls. It hung on the first hook in the bedroom closet and George was being patiently trained to "pick up your things and put them in the bag, dear, don't leave them on the floor!"

But long before George was perfect in this practice, the cretonne bag began to bulge and the lid on the towel hamper would shut down. And when there wasn't a single clean pink apron in the cabinet drawer, the Little Bride knew she was face to face with that monstrosity—The Laundry Problem!

To send the wash out cost too much—$4 a week from her allowance. A woman by the day was hard to get, and the Little Bride was "fussy"—she had such lovely, lacy hope chests things!

What did she do? Paid $10.00 down and we sent her an Electric Washer. And the neighbors now exclaim "Isn't she the thrifty little thing? No wonder they can keep a car!"
